Walks with God

Most of the last 28 years has been a joyful journey. However, it has included a few walks with God through "Valleys of the Shadow of Death."

Some of the walks have been of my choosing -- decisions I made with God's guidance and the support of the program. When I was 4 years sober, I decided to end a 14-year relationship. Then 11 years ago I decided to take early retirement at age 55 from a company in New England I'd worked for for 32 years and relocate 2,250 miles away -- back here where I grew up. As I walked through these transitions there were times when it didn't seem like such a good idea after all. An obstacle or a negative thought filled me with fear that I'd made a terrible mistake. I was told to "Remember what you were thinking when you were thinking clearly." Along the way, God opened doors for me and gave me little signs (like a rainbow when I reached the end of the bridge taking me over the Hudson River on my way to Texas) that let me know I was on the right path.

Some of the walks have NOT been of my choosing. Ten years ago, I walked through a chemo treatment program for a chronic and treatable, but incurable form of cancer (leukemia and lymphoma). God has been with me each step of the way and I have felt surrounded by the love, support, and wisdom of people in the program. My challenge has always been to stay in the moment and do the next right thing: To put one foot in front of the other and walk through it. My friend Ken says, "You don't need the ticket until you get on the train."It's been my experience that God doesn't give me courage or other resources before I need them. I think that's His way of letting me know that I'll always be taken care of. There have been terrifying moments, but not one entirely bad day. As long as I stay in the moment, I have the sense that life is good and I am in God's hands. At times I do not know where I'm going, but I know I'm not lost and I know that I will be alright however it unfolds.

Early in my cancer journey, I was misdiagnosed with acute Erythroleukemia, a "brush fire" cancer that would have killed me in a few months. Some good things came out of that pathology error - I was referred to the M.D. Anderson Cancer Center (ranked #1 cancer hospital in the country). My doctor is the chairman of their Leukemia Department. I couldn't have better care anywhere. In addition, I was forced to confront and lose my fear of dying.

One of my friends is an anesthesiologist. It is her job to revive people when they die on the operating table. She says part of her job is technical (the paddles and injections, etc.) and part of her job is sales, because NOBODY EVER wanted to come back. Baptists, Catholics, Jews, Atheists all liked it better on the other side. She told them, "It's not your time. I promise you that when your time comes, you will return to that place." That told me we will all go to a better place.

C. S. Lewis once said "You ARE a soul. You HAVE a body. It seems to me that people with Alzheimer's sometimes outlive their minds and people with cancer and cardiovascular diseases often outlive their bodies. The soul, the divine within, the essence of who they are lives on forever with their maker.

It occurred to me that there were a few fears that I could and should do something about.

- The fear of being kept alive beyond any hope of quality life because a doctor or a relative • couldn't let go. I needed a living will and a health care proxy who was willing and able to pull the plug when the time came.
- The fear of not being ready -- of leaving unfinished business. I needed a current will and directives for cremation and services. I needed to express a few withheld acknowledgements and make a few amends for recent slights. The old amends had been made long ago.
- The fear of 'abandoning' those I care for. Thanks to Al-Anon, I had already detached with love. And the truth is while I made a difference in their lives, I never really was essential. That says it all: I'm not essential and I make a difference. And God loves them and is there for them just as he loves me and is there for me.

What was left was just another Walk with God. I knew that he would go with me every step of the way and that I would be all right forever. It occurred to me that billions of people have successfully died and when my time comes, I'll manage with God's help.

Just for today I am alive and well.

Coastal BENDER Mission Statement

Our primary purpose is to carry the AA message to the still suffering alcoholic. A secondary purpose of The Bender is to keep the CBIA Area of South Texas informed as to the events, meeting changes, Board of Trustee actions / decisions, and other news of interest to AA's in the area. Finally, as a newsletter we provide a forum for the broad spectrum of views held by our members. Publication of any article submitted will be at the discretion of the Bender Editor as advised by the CBIA Board. A controversial subject, as long as it does not concern an outside issue and involves principles and not personalities, will be considered for publication. As a general guideline, any letter or article that is of interest to members of AA and in good taste is worthy of publication. However, an article or letter that advocates ignoring or violating the Traditions, Concepts, or General Service Conference actions will not be considered for publication. All decisions will be made under the direction of God as expressed through our group conscience.
